

Find an outstanding Clinical Placement in the Schools

What experiences should students look for in a school clinical placement?

It is important to have experiences that prepare you for practice after graduation. Over half of SLPs work in school settings. Ask about the types of experiences offered by the clinical placement so you can refine skills in these important areas.

Special Education Processes

- Will you have experiences with referral, eligibility, and meetings?
- Will you evaluate students according to IDEA requirements and collaborate with others?

Educational Practices

- Will you have experiences with general education interventions, assistive technology, and academic standards?

Service Delivery

- Will you have experience with a variety of service delivery models?
- Will you learn behavior management, small and large group therapy techniques, and data collection methods?

Leadership and Mentoring

- Will you have a clinical supervisor who can answer questions about licensure, practice requirements, and provide advice for the future?
